"Wister and More!" presents the Wister Quartet -
Sunday, March 04, 2012

The German Society of Pennsylvania

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

On Sunday, March 4, 2012 at 3:00 p.m., The German Society of Pennsylvania presents the Wister Quartet in the second of its three concerts on the Society’s 2011-12 “Wister and More!” classical concert series in the acoustically superb Albert and Hete Barthelmes Auditorium at the German Society’s headquarters, 611 Spring Garden Street in Philadelphia.

The Wister Quartet (Nancy Bean and Davyd Booth, violins; Pamela Fay, viola; and Lloyd Smith, cello) will perform Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart’s sunny Divertimento in D Major, K. 136; a wonderful new quartet by Frank James Staneck entitled “A Suite for Ursula” and Alexander Borodin’s tunefully opulent String Quartet No. 2 in D Major. Themes from this quartet were incorporated into the Broadway musical “Kismet.”

Since its founding in 1987, the Wister Quartet has earned high praise from critics and audiences alike for its superb musicianship and memorable performances. Daniel Webster of The Philadelphia Inquirer has written that the Wister Quartet “has become the foremost [Philadelphia] chamber music ensemble.” David Patrick Stearns of The Philadelphia Inquirer recently wrote, “Fierce, satisfying . . . . This was a long-cultivated group personality for which there should always be a place, no matter how busy the musical community becomes.”

Tickets are $20 and may be purchased online at http://german-society-of-pennsylvania.ticketleap.com/wister/, by calling 215-627-2332, or at the door.
