Applications Open for German Bundestag's 2024 International Parliamentary Scholarship Program

The German Bundestag's International Parliamentary Scholarship (IPS) program is set to continue for its 38th year in 2024!

The IPS program affords young college graduates the opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of Germany's parliamentary system during a three-month work placement with a member of the German Parliament. Participants also take part in a rich educational program and have the chance to enroll in university classes during their five-month stay in the German capital.

IPS is open to college graduates who are U.S. citizens, under age 30 on March 1, 2024, and who have very good knowledge (B2+) of the German language. Candidates should also be familiar with the basic features of German politics and society. Applicants must have completed their undergraduate studies by December 31, 2022. The application deadline is July 31, 2023.

Please share this amazing opportunity with your students, colleagues, and any other prospective candidates. Further information can be found at www.germany.info/ips, and application materials can be found on the Bundestag website: www.bundestag.de/ips.
